LOCAL BREVITIES.

The "Noes" got it—in the neck!

As spring strengthens, so stiffen the vertebrae of the kalsomner.

April showers, we presume, are necessary, but they're not always pleasant.

We publish on our first page the amendments made by the late legislature to the school law.

We mean you: and we want you to return without delay these Academy of Music keys we let you have "for a few minutes only."

Wm. G. Fairchild is having his residence repainted, and the fence in front of the premises straightened up and made as good as new.

When the dogwood blooms spring fishing is ripe, and not before. Remember this, ye who would escape the proverbial "fisherman's luck."

Weddings and rumors of weddings. Matrimony appears to be so "ketchin'" in the Valley that new-comers early succumb to the fatal infection.

W. R. Edgar, Esq., went to Bismarck Monday, on legal business; and thence to Potosi on further 1. b. He returned in company with the "billboard," Tuesday night.

Two bridges—at Allenville and Bessville—on the Belmont branch, were burned Wednesday night. In consequence, many of the trains were put through on the main route.

Rev. B. F. Thomas has been retained in this circuit for another year. He is a worthy and energetic pastor, and we hope his ministrations may be crowned with eminent success.

From the apportionment of State School Monies the county districts in Iron county will receive $2,216.00. This amount will be distributed by the county clerk to the several districts in Iron county, about May 1st.

Do dead dogs and burglarious bumblings convolute, or do the latter evolve from the nowhereness of the former? This double question is underrunning, from pit to dome, the fabric of Ironton's domestic philosophy.

We claimed before the election that those who would vote to repudiate an honest public debt for which the public had received full value, must, eventually, be fearfully and wonderfully made. Thank God, Ironton has only ten such voters! Who are they?

All persons entitled to fees in the Ed. Thomas case, can obtain them by applying to the circuit clerk of Washington county, at Potosi. The State has forwarded the funds for the liquidation of all claims in this case, and the clerk is desirous of settling up the matter without delay.

Attention is called to the fact that a May Festival will be given in the Academy of Music, Wednesday, May 6—the proceeds of which will be for the benefit of the Catholic Church at Pilot Knob. The price of admission will be 50 cents only, and we are sure the spacious hall will be packed to its fullest capacity.

Hon. Thos. G. Foley desires us to notify the public that he has placed from county shares of such public documents as were ordered by the General Assembly, in the hands of the various postmasters throughout the county and the circuit clerk, for free distribution. Those who may desire any of them will call at the above places.

The following marriage licenses have been issued since our last report—March 11th: Wm. Henry Middleton and Carolina Ann Hilleman.

L. B. Viscen and Florence Parks. James Swafford and Helen Dugan. George Chapman and Agnes Kiddie. Jno. Weber and Louisa Breitenstein.

The initial number of the Bonne Terre Register, edited and published by our old friend, J. M. Kirkpatrick, lies on our table. It is a seven-column folio, well filled with excellent reading—mostly, as it should be, home news. It is neatly printed from new type, presents a creditable appearance, and will deserve the patronage of the people of St. Francois.

The Musical and Literary Entertainment advertised for Graniteville will be given Friday night of this week, April 10th. We hear that the tickets are going off rapidly, and the only fear now is that the hall will not be large enough to hold the people who will desire to attend. The programme is an excellent one, and all who are present may expect to be well entertained.

John Biemel has an A 1 baker, as is well proven by the sort of bread he furnishes. His first output last Saturday delighted everybody, and we predict a good run of custom to the establishment. Cakes and pies of all kinds will also be kept on hand at all times. Wedding parties, balls, etc., will be fitted out at reasonable rates, with everything desired in the way of cake and pastry. The baker is boss of his trade and guarantees satisfaction to even the most exacting.

Please allow us to interpolate the "Brevities" with the following from the Missouri Republican. It's not "local news," we admit, but it is adamant truth that always looks well and reads well, wherever you may put it:

The New York Evening Post requests the Sun "not to include the Evening Post in any list of persons or papers favoring or excusing the transactions of the Louisiana returning board in 1876, or the doings of the 'visiting statesmen,' or the consummation of what it calls 'the counting out' of Samuel J. Tilden and the counting in of Rutherford B. Hayes in 1877."

As the years pass by the Republican papers grow more and more anxious to forget that detestable word. They are ashamed of it and of all who took part in it, and of all who profited by it. They are even ashamed of themselves.

At the school election yesterday the voters of this district re-elected Franz Dinger and W. T. Gay directors; voted an eight months school, and said, emphatically, YES! as to the payment of the warrants whose validity had been questioned. Sixty votes were in favor, and ten against. The latter represent the salt of the community, no doubt; but if they were to run a private business as they tried to run this district, how long would they have any business?

At the election of the stockholders of the Academy of Music, last Monday, the following Board of Directors was chosen: T. R. Goulding, Wm. Hills, A. Roehry, Geo. Schultz and J. T. Ake. The election of officers for the ensuing year will be held on Wednesday, April 15th, and it is hoped that the finance committee appointed a year ago may either report or surrender the p. p.ers it has in charge, so that a new committee may be enabled to make an intelligent exhibition of the affairs of the academy of the company.

Our attention was called to the portrait of a young lady, done by Paul P. Hinchey, of Aracadia. It is a sample of his $15.00 pastel pictures—that price including frame and glass. These pictures are very durable, and any respect less than oil: the painter being able to get a softer finish than can be gotten with oil paint. They are becoming very fashionable. The picture referred to is to be seen at J. N. B. shop's Hardware Store. Oil portraits can be had, from thirty dollars up. Satisfaction guaranteed in every instance.

Last Friday night Mr. W. G. Fairchild's "summer kitchen"—standing apart from the house—was burglariously entered and a ham, a lot of flour, and some hard were stolen therefrom. Entrance was also made into the dwelling proper, but nothing was taken from it. The same night Mr. G. D. Marks lost, in the same way, several jars of preserves and a roll of butter. Wm. B. Newman also suffered to the extent of a coat—and, no doubt, other places are yet to hear from. 'Tis a pity the midnight marauders do not run against a double-barreled shot-gun, heavily loaded, in the hands of a good marksman. By-the-way, Fairchild is the man the thieves always "strike for ham"—this being the third time in the past year he has risen to find his layout for breakfast gone where he woodbine twined. Let us trust he consoled himself in this last instance with the reflection that it was Good Friday, anyway.

Gosh! Jewelers!! What does the Bollinger county's People's Press man want that he can't get, and who has unfortunately "throb on his coat-tail," that he should spew out the following lie:

Self-important Iron county is ever willing to sacrifice her taxes upon the altar of her country. She is just now endeavoring to make a martyr of her blatant, bantam self by offering up a host of her taxpayers to the public tax. Fortunately for that breezy county such don't words causa is one of the media prohibita. And even if it were not, there are too many fools in Washington to accept such sacrifice. And when all the others have been cast together they contained not so many as this one (Iron county) did.

Now, we can get along reasonably well with a brother who uses even very harsh English; but when Mr. Floney slings a broadside of denunciatory dead language at poor Iron, her people must succumb, and can only surrender at discretion. But, hold! Perhaps it's dynamite Irish the Press bombards us with! Avariant the horrible thought!

The Missouri Republican had a long article one day last week, showing the advantages of Cape Girardeau as a location for the Branch Penitentiary. The principal of these was its close location to the iron mines of Southeast Missouri. Now, Cape Girardeau is by rail a hundred miles distant from these mines, while Ironton is right on the ground. In addition, we claim that Aracadia Valley has all the other advantages which the Cape can claim, and beside is much more healthful and better fitted for the institution. Communication is easy and rapid in every direction, and we are in the State of Missouri—not on its extreme border. Cape Girardeau is not to be found fault with in trying to get all it can for itself; but we insist that neither justice nor the good of the State would be subserved by giving that city the preference. The Normal School it has—we don't believe in giving the river counties the earth, and we know the interior of Southeast Missouri has already suffered a too great slight in the awarding of public benefits. It is time to make a change.

Easter Services at the Presbyterian Church.

Last Sunday Special Services were held at the Presbyterian church, both morning and night, which were attended by unusually large congregations. The attendance at this church has greatly increased of late, but the Easter Services drew the people out in such numbers as to crowd the house to its utmost capacity. It has been said that no greater number has ever been seen in the church on any occasion than was seen last Sabbath evening.

Most beautiful floral decorations were arranged for the occasion. A large white cross, round about which an ivy vine was entwined, stood at the rear of the platform. This was surmounted by a golden crown—illuminated at night, producing a most beautiful effect. The base of the cross was surrounded by choice flowers artistically arranged. Flowers were also displayed in front of the platform, and at the sides. Taken all in all, the decorations were most complete, and it may be doubted if anything better has ever been seen in Ironton.

The morning services consisted of an Easter Anthem and other special music, by the choir, and a sermon by the Pastor on "The Empty Tomb and the Risen Lord."

At night the Sunday School held an Easter Service. The children were all seated on the platform, among the flowers, and presented a very cheerful and attractive scene. They sang a hymn entitled, "Christ the Lord is Risen To-day," to each line of which the choir responded, "Alleluia!" Scriptural selections were read by the Pastor, giving an account of Christ's resurrection and ascension. There were several recitations by members of the school, and a class of young ladies sang, "Gloria to the Risen King." The choir rendered several selections, and Mrs. Pennington sang a solo entitled, "To Jesus our Exalted Lord." The services closed with a "Cross and Crown" exercise, participated in by ten members of the school, each one of which recited a verse of Scripture illustrating the triumph of Christ. Then, while they sang "Crown Him," the crown above the cross was illuminated.

After a hymn by the congregation, the benediction was pronounced, and the throng dispersed. Thus closed what will doubtless long be remembered as a most enjoyable Easter Festival.

Gone to Washington.

There probably is trouble brewing between the United States and France. Capt. W. H. Byers, as announced, has purchased an enormous Bankrupt Stock in Pekin, China, and it ought to have arrived ere now; but the French, who are always making trouble, have placed their navy in the way, and of course the merchandise in question cannot leave port. A. B. T., after due deliberation, has gone to Washington to demand the interference of the Government, that his goods may be allowed to come over. In the meantime, that his customers may not be altogether inoperative at the unfortunate delay, he will purchase on his route—by way of Philadelphia and New York—large consignments, which may be expected to begin arriving in a day or two. We stop the press to give our readers this very important intelligence.

Tunnel Drifts.

They are shipping very fine ore from here now. The shaft is running two drifts. Uncle Dan and his yard crew are building a substantial stone wall at the entrance of No. 3 Tunnel.

There will be some new rules in the By-Laws of the Miners Club next week.

I wended my way to the top of Pilot Knob hill Sunday morning before sun rise, for the express purpose of seeing the sun-dance. I provided myself with a smoked glass. I could not see anything that looked like a dance to me, though it might have danced a little before it left Fredericktown.

No applicant yet to boss the mule whackers. They need one awful badly, with just a little patience.

The late unpleasantness between the men and prices of drilling is all settled satisfactory to both men and company.

The measles are very bad among the families of the miners.

Pretty nearly all the miners are getting their little plots of ground ready for the forthcoming crop of garden-sass.

Mr. William Trauernicht, the fashionable clothier and tailor of Middlebrook, and wife, with two other lady guests of theirs from St. Louis, visited the tunnels last Monday.

There is to be a new clerk in the company store. He is fresh from Italia.

The Pilot Knob Cornet Band has reorganized, and will commence business immediately.

Annapolis News.

ANNAPOLIS, Mo., April 6th, 1885.

Ed. Register—Spring having come, the trees are getting green, and wild flowers are plenty in the woods.

Miss Maria Russell, of Aracadia, Miss Addie Russell and Miss Laura White, of Sabula, were visiting here last Monday.

D. A. Johnson went to Piedmont Tuesday. Judge Hart has bought the whole block in which his store and residence is located, and is fencing it. This adds greatly to the Judge's property in appearance as well as convenience.

Rev. Bro. Truitt, of Piedmont, preached to a large congregation here last (Sunday) night.

Our annual school meeting will be held to-morrow, 7th. Among other proceedings of the meeting will be taken a vote of the tax-payers, as to whether this District shall enlarge the schoolhouse or not. Our school-house is only large enough for about sixty pupils, and the attendance is about 110. We trust the people will vote for the enlargement.

Dr. E. May is in St. Louis as a grand juror. School began here the 1st inst., conducted by Prof. Whitesides.

AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC, IRONTON, MO. WEDNESDAY EV'G, MAY 6, MAY FESTIVAL.

TICKET, FIFTY CENTS.

FOR BENEFIT OF CATHOLIC CHURCH, PILOT KNOB.

From Goodwater.

GOODWATER, Mo., April 3d, 1885.

Ed. Register—To the great relief of many whose supply of provender has "run short," spring has at last made its appearance.

Farmers in general are very busy now, sowing oats and breaking corn-ground.

There is a laudable emulation among farmers in this vicinity in regard to the improvement of stock. At present this feeling is manifesting itself in the prevalent disposition of most farmers hereabouts to possess a good brood-mare. Nearly all who can justify lay claim to being "wide-awake" have managed to procure a fine brood-mare or a colt that is expected to develop good breeding qualities in a few years. Unfortunately there is a lack of good stallions; there is not even a second-rate stallion within reach of this community. Most of us are sadly limited in means—being unable to purchase a horse worthy of patronage; the few persons among us who have ample purchasing power have not the inclination to "handle that kind of stock." "There's money in it" to the right kind of a man, and it is hoped that ere next spring this crying want will be well supplied.

Messrs. Marion Mayberry and Jas. Merritt started to Woodland, Cal., on Monday, 23d ult.

Lafayette Alesh, Esq., has purchased a farm, containing 60 acres, near Bellevue, Mo., from Mr. Newton Warren.

During the first part of this week the sun and other distant objects were obscured by the vast amount of smoke in the atmosphere caused by the almost universal firing of the woods in this region. On Wednesday, 1st inst., the cloud of smoke was dispelled by other clouds of a more humid nature, and on the following day we were favored with a genuine old-fashioned "April day." Such days always remind one of the beautiful, soul-inspiring lines on "An April Day." Its rhythm and strict adherence to facts—nothing being over drawn or exaggerated—are so charming that I can scarcely refrain from quoting the entire poem, but I will content myself with giving the following stanzas:

All day the low-hung clouds have dropped
Their garnered fulness down;
All day that soft, gray mist hath wrapped
Hill, valley, grove, and town.

I stood to hear—I love it well—
The rain's continuous sound;
Small drops, but thick and fast they fell,
Down straight into the ground.

Down, down they come—those fruitful stores,
Those earth-rejoicing drops!
A momentary deluge pours,
Then thins, decreases, stops.

More anon, E.

A Letter From Bellevue.

The hearts of our farmers have been rejoiced by a fine rain. It will aid in solving the wheat problem.

The pleasant weather preceding the rain had been well improved in plowing, sowing and planting.

Your correspondent in "A True Statement" shows great skill in evading the great facts on which the charge of "doctoring the minutes" was based. It does not matter now. Deacon Bedott and his colleagues are dead cocks in the pit. It only remains to be seen whether the Missionary Baptist Church in Bellevue is not in the same condition. We await the action of the ejected members and their friends, who, for reasons of state, are permitted to remain in church connection.

In regard to the murder of Mrs. Carolina Trollinger, the REGISTER is judiciously guarded in its statement, but is mistaken on one point. It says she lived three miles from Edge Hill. It is seven and a half miles, strong.

I measured that road with an odometer. I have known Mrs. Trollinger over fifteen years. Every man, woman or child over five years of age on O. R. Forks well known by me, and the exact relations existing among them. There is but one family on the creek that I regard as capable of such an act, and that is the only one that could possibly have a direct interest in Mrs. Trollinger's removal.

There is nothing in the record of the family inconsistent with the idea of their doing such a thing. It would perhaps be difficult to assess exactly the amount of guilt attaching to any one of them, so as to obtain a legal conviction, but no amount of explanation can ever remove the cloud from the house. Developments since the murder all point in one direction. Before long I will go out there, and if consistent with the interests of public justice, the REGISTER will receive the facts.

As I am not to be even presumed to know who "Josephus" is, will you please tell him that when he effected a lodgment in the hazel-patch, he flanked Newton, but that distinguished tactician, acting as Joe Johnson, met the flanking movement by a change of front, and is now securely entrenched at the corners, his left flank covered by Deacon Bedott and Hall Colmby, and his right by the sisters' brigade. The line faces south by west, and the Caledonia road is closely watched by a red-headed picket post north of Andrew Jackson's, and the Cedar creek road guarded at the south end of the old Hood place, near Reed's creek. On the west, Fort Jefferson is on a strike, which it is likely will raise His Sulphurous Majesty on the east—be north of the corners.

The Methodist brethren at the corners are to be congratulated on the accession to their numbers of Mr. Lafayette Alesh and his ex-elite wife, who have purchased land in the neighborhood.

I see by the REGISTER that the Presbyterian church in Ironton is to have a blow-out on Easter. Shure, an' won't their be some bades and howly water mixed up w' it?

Let Rev. Pennington study the message to the angel of the church at Sardis.

On last Sabbath the Union Sabbath School had a pleasant and profitable review of the lessons for the quarter. Mrs. Lay being absent, the music at the opening of the school was well rendered by Miss Hartman, who is a young musician, but gives good promise of high success. At the close the music was rendered by Mrs. Dr. Haley. No more need be said. She has no equal as a musician in Bellevue.

I have not visited the High School recently, but as the scholars all seem boiling over with fun, and the last time I saw the Principal the smiles were flowing all over his head, I presume the school is a grand success, and therefore give thanks. The school certainly contains a large per cent. of the best young ladies of Bellevue, but by no means all of them. I speak of the ladies, because they are the barometers of society. There is in Bellevue to-day a great deal of real talent and true refinement, and of the spirit of true elevation and progress. In how far the High School may succeed in developing those things remains to be seen, but the REGISTER reports good results.

Your correspondent, although he has neither a goose yoke nor an apron, is a Mason of good degree, a Priest with Urim and Thummim. Masonry, stripped of its paraphernalia, is as old as God, and just as real and personal. I have a Lodge of Knights and Honor ahead of the one at the Corners. Money cannot buy membership in my Lodge.

The measles seem to have passed through Bellevue without leaving any fresh graves. April 4th.

THOMAS CALAHAN.
